

Appalachian Stacked Stone

Appalachian Stacked Stone panels come in four distinct stone arrangements. Each stone is unique and is never duplicated throughout the product line. Our stacked stone panels feature an overlapping ship-lap edge completely concealing all screw heads and eliminating the need for applying fasteners within the stone field. Our stacked stone panels are also formed into a "Z" shape to eliminate the otherwise very visible transition line between adjoining panels. The unique combination of these features creates a natural and seamless look.
